Introduction

At Tuition Extra we respect and value difference. We promote a welcoming, safe and inclusive environment for both staff and students alike. We are committed to ensuring equality of opportunity and support for all learners, parents, carers and staff irrespective of sex, race, disability, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy, gender reassignment and socio-economic background. We aim to provide a fully inclusive school in which every person feels proud of their identity and able to participate fully within the school community. We believe that a diverse school community is a strength which should be respected and celebrated by all those who learn, teach and visit here.

Context

The Equality Act (2010) means that schools cannot lawfully discriminate against learners because of their sex, race, disability, religion or belief or sexual orientation. The Act also ensures that protection is extended to learners who are pregnant or undergoing gender reassignment.

The following policy meets the requirements of the Equality Act 2010.

Equality and the Law

The Equality Act (2010) has replaced all previous existing equality regulations, including those relating to race, disability and gender. The Equality Act (2010) is a single, consolidated source of discrimination law, covering all the types of discrimination that are unlawful. Protected characteristics covered by the Equality Act (2010) include:

- Sex
- Race,
- Disability
- Religion or belief
- Sexual orientation
- Gender reassignment
- Pregnancy or maternity

It is also unlawful to discriminate because of the sex, race, disability, religion or belief, sexual orientation or gender reassignment of another person with whom the learner is associated.

The Equality Act (2010) also makes it unlawful for the responsible body of a school to discriminate against, harass or victimise a learner or potential learner in relation to:

- Admissions
- The way it provides education for learners
- The way it provides learners access to any benefit, facility or service
- Excluding a learner or subjecting them to any detriment

The equalities plan at the end of this equalities policy outlines the actions we will take to meet the duties in the Equality Act in respect of the above protected characteristics.

The Legal Framework

Discrimination can take the following forms. Including:

Direct Discrimination – This occurs where a person is treated less favourably than others because of their (or a family member's) actual or perceived protected characteristic.

Indirect Discrimination – This occurs by applying a provision, criterion or practice, which disadvantages people on the grounds of a protected characteristic, and which cannot be justified as a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim.

Victimisation – This occurs where an individual has exercised their rights under equality legislation (or has indicated that they intend to do so) and is treated less favourably as a direct result. It applies equally to a person who is supporting (or indicates that they intend to support) another person who is exercising their rights under the legislation.

Harassment – This is defined as unwanted conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic which has the purpose OR effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating a hostile, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual.

Disability Discrimination – This includes direct and indirect discrimination, any unjustified less favourable treatment because of the effects of a disability, and failure to make reasonable adjustments to alleviate disadvantages caused by a disability.

Unlawful Reasons for Discrimination

Sex

It is not permissible to treat a person less favourably on the grounds of sex, marital status, civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, gender reassignment or transgender status. This applies to men, women and those undergoing or intending to undergo gender reassignment. Sexual harassment of men and women can be found to constitute sex discrimination.

Age

It is not permissible to treat a person less favourably because of their age. This applies to people of all ages.

Disability

It is not permissible to treat a disabled person less favourably than a non-disabled person. Reasonable adjustments must be made to give the disabled person as much access to any services and ability to be employed, trained, or promoted as a non-disabled person.

Race

It is not permissible to treat a person less favourably because of their race, the colour of their skin, their nationality or their ethnic origin.

Sexual Orientation

It is not permissible to treat a person less favourably because of their sexual orientation.

Religion or Belief

It is not permissible to treat a person less favourably because of their religious beliefs or their religion or their lack of any religion or belief.

Purpose

- To enable all learners/staff to maximise their potential and develop a high level of self-esteem.
- To promote and develop positive attitudes and respect for others regardless of gender, race, religion, culture, special need or background.
- To develop an awareness of different ways of life, beliefs, opinions and ideas in our society.
- To counter prejudice and avoid stereotyping.

Implementing the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy

Providing High Quality Teaching and Learning

At Tuition Extra our curriculum is carefully planned to ensure coverage of a variety of topics referring to different countries and cultures. We celebrate diversity and believe that an understanding of other people's faith, lifestyle or heritage encourages tolerance and we work hard to promote this acceptance in the everyday life of the service.

We aim to ensure that every learner makes good progress and achieves well by:

- Using fully inclusive teaching and learning approaches to engage all our learners. Teaching styles should enable the promotion of positive attitudes, a sense of personal worth and foster a positive atmosphere of mutual respect and trust.
- Monitoring achievement data by ethnicity, gender, disadvantage and disability and intervening decisively when required.
- Rigorous analysis of students' progress to determine and inform the strategies we will use to support groups of learners and individuals.
- Setting challenging targets for all learners.
- Using teaching resources which avoid stereotyping and reflect the diversity of the school and local community in terms of race, gender and disability.
- Promoting attitudes and values that challenge all discriminatory behaviour and prejudices.
- Seeking the positive involvement of all parents / carers in their child's education.
- Encouraging discussion of equality issues which reflect social stereotypes, expectations and their impact upon learning. As a school we work to promote the principles of fairness and justice for all through the educational opportunities we provide.

- Challenging stereotyping and prejudice whenever and wherever it occurs.
- Ensuring that all recruitment, employment, promotion and training systems are fair to all and we provide opportunities for everyone to achieve.

The Role of the Head of Education

The Head of Education has overall responsibility for the implementation of the service's Equality Policy and will ensure that all members of staff are aware of the Equality Policy and that these guidelines are applied fairly in all situations.

The Head of Education is responsible for promoting equality of opportunity within the curriculum and wider school community and will treat all incidents of prejudice, stereotyping, victimisation and harassment with due seriousness.

Monitoring and Review

The SLT of Tuition Extra monitor this policy on an ongoing basis to evaluate its effectiveness and ensure appropriate steps can be taken to eliminate unlawful discrimination.

This policy is reviewed on an annual basis to ensure the aims of the policy are carried out in accordance with the School's equality obligations.

APPENDIX 1

What do we understand by disability?

Tuition Extra recognises that disability is not caused by the individuals, but by the physical, environmental and attitudinal barriers which exist in the education system and in society as a whole.

We understand inclusion to be the process of taking necessary steps to ensure that every young person is given equality of opportunity to develop socially, to learn and to enjoy community life.

How we will meet the General Duty and Specific Duty.

By challenging any negative attitudes to disability, we will actively seek to:

- Promote equality of opportunity between disabled persons and other persons.
- Eliminate discrimination that is unlawful under the Equality Act 2010.
- Eliminate harassment of disabled persons that is related to their disabilities.
- Promote positive attitudes towards disabled persons.
- Encourage participation by disabled persons in public life.

Anti-Racism/Anti-Sexism

We believe that it is the right of all learners to receive the best education that Tuition Extra can provide. We do not tolerate any forms of racism, sexism or prejudiced behaviour. We challenge any incident of racism, sexism or prejudice and should a racist or sexist incident occur we follow school and LA procedures, immediately informing the Head of Education.

We understand that stereotyping and prejudice are caused by ignorance and poor self-image on the part of the perpetrator. Through positive educational experiences and support for each individual's point of view we aim to promote positive social attitudes and respect for all.
